POLITICAL OPINION.Both Parties Should Make Some Concessions.Is The Political Opinion of Our Brandenburg Correspondent.WITH SENATOR BLACKBURN ON THE VIVA VOCE VOTING METHOD.The gold Democrats will nominate a national gold Democratic ticket unless the Kansas City convention fails to make certain concessions. Let both sides make some concessions and then get together.Democrats say (and they all profess
it) that Hannegan and McLureyean make it impossible for them to support the Republican ticket, why don't they quit nibbling and get together? They will not do it because they are more bitter in their contention than they do the other side. Yes, I know free silver will not be the main issue again and there's where concession will come up missing.Senator-elect, J. C. S. Blackburn likes to talk. We all know he comes from a loquacious family. It is a pity he hasn't always talked consistently. He is in Louisville this week as an ex-confederate and is still a "come ye in peace or come ye in war" man. The Senator is anxious to get Kentucky back where she belongs. He knows, we all know, where she should belong in Democratic ranks by about four thousand miles. Disease is an evil that makes her doubtful, which is not as Mr. Blackburn says, very complimentary. He says the doors of the party are swings open for the return of all Democrats.
Thank you Mr. Blackburn, you are very kind if they come back the way you did Governor Bradley say "Hell is not half hot enough for such people."
My only wish will be the day when they committed the vile degradations they did.Let me encourage every Republican to hattle on. It is only a matter of a few months until our party shall know one of the greatest and grandest triumphs.
"Behind the clouds the sun is still shining." The light of liberty that is now hidden in old Kentucky will yet shine with such a power of condemnation upon our foes that there will be no escape for them.How vast are the rich resources of our country! how rapidly it is being developed and how much remains to be developed in the new generation.I am willing to do when there is more to do than the multiplied mul-tions can do in the next century. God has given us the greatest country the world ever saw in the greatest age. The vast fields for agriculture and the full of all kinds of minerals are beyond comprehension and computation. What we are and what we shall be as a nation remain yet to be told.Our western, and especially the coast so long thinly settled, is soon to be filled with people and wealth and influence. It comes nearer having every thing for man's comfort than the East. It has a better climate, a better market, better timber, it is better for fruit, and better for agriculture and stock raising as grass is abundant and the time for winter feeding is but short. All these advantages will rapidly develop this Pacific coast.

These are still other things that will in the near future add to her wealth and progress.

First will come the port cities.

Second, the gold fields of Alaska,

with its wealth yet to be developed,

and third will come the railroads.

I am sure that you and your partisan shall be at once. You have not

O'RELL'S TRIBUTE.

The American Possesses A Sense Of Humor And The Gift Of Comradeship.

Good fellowship is an early natural gift, to be found in the American; it is a quality cultivated by them as late as in the misty days of manhood, And I hope I shall not offend American women if, using the word in its best and respectful sense, I say that they do, too, strike the foreigners as good fellows, good comrades.

After all, good fellowship is the sense of humor—both are the outcome of temperament and philosophy in the character. You will never find a good comrade in a woman. You will never find a good fellow or a humorist until you can stand a joke at your own expense. The concealed man has no humor in him, nor can he tell in others. The concealed man is a dull fool, who spends his life standing sentry at the door of his dignity. He is an unmeasurable bore, who misses the sweetest pleasure of life, and makes life unbearable to all those who live around him. You do not meet that man in the society of America.

The American man is a generous, good-humored, pleasant, social good fellow, with whom you get on from the beginning. In England you meet charming men, but there is a crust to break through at first before you can get at them. The American is wide open, all ready for use.—Max O'Rell in the New York Journal.

Does It Pay To Buy Cheap?

A cheap remedy for coughs and colds is all right, but you are getting something that will not last, and the more you buy the dangerous results of throat and lung troubles. What shall you do? Go to a warmer and more regular climate? Yes, if possible; if not possible for you, then in either case take the only remedy that has been introduced in all civilized countries with success in severe throat and lung trouble, "Beechey's German Syrup." It not only heals and stimulates the tissues to destroy the germs disease, but also allays the pain, cures easy exhaustion, gives a good night's rest, and cures the patient. Try one bottle. Recommended many years by all druggists in the world. For sale by A. R. Fisher.

Don't Borrow A Paper.

Here is the latest story of the man who is too stingy to take his home paper. A man who was too economical to take his paper sent his little boy to borrow the copy taken by his neighbor. In his haste the boy ran over a $4 stand of bees and in ten minutes looked like a wary emer- er, was run to his assistance and failing to notice a bare-wired fence, ran into that, breaking it down, cutting a handful of flesh from his anatomy, and raining a $4 pair of pants. The old cow took advantage of the gap in the fence and got into the corral and killed herself eating great corn. Hearing the racket, the wife ran out, nept a four-gallon charon full of rich cream into a basket of kittens, drowning the whole flock. In the hurry she dropped a $7 set of lace. The baby, who alone was not injured, ate the spilled milk and into the parlor, putting a brand-new $20 carpet. During the excitement the oldest daughter ran away with the hired man; the dog broke up eleven setting hens and the cat gave birth to five fine shihs.—Dallas Tex., News.

An Epidemic For Whooping Cough.

Last winter during an epidemic of whooping cough my children contracted the disease, having severe coughing spells. We had used Chamberlain's Cough Remedy with success for croup and naturally turned to it at that time and found it a most effective remedy.—John E. Clifford, Proprietor Norwood House, Norwood, N. Y. This remedy is for sale by A. R. Fisher, Cloverport, R. A. Shellenbach, Stephensburg.

Railroad Earnings.

The gross earnings of all railroads in the United States are $10,633,905, an increase of 8.8 per cent over last year and all classes of roads, carmen, conductors, to extend both ways. The line increase is due chiefly to relatively larger movement of miscellaneous freights this year than in preceding years. This is the best paying class of traffic and indicates more diversified activity.—Public Opinion.

$100 Reward $100.

The readers of this paper will be pleased to learn that there is at least one dreadful disease that science has been able to cure in all its stages and that is Cataract. Hall's Cataract Cure is the only safe effective cure given to the medical fraternity. Cataract being a constitutional disease requires a constitutional treatment. Hall's Cataract Cure is taken internally, acting directly on the blood and mucous surfaces of the system, thereby destroying the foundation of the disease, and giving the patient strength by building up the constitution and assisting nature in doing its work. The proprietors have so much faith in its curative powers, that they offer One Hundred Dollars for any case of cataract that can be cured. Send for list of testimonials.

A Chance For All.

Do we not have the sympathy for all poverty that is expressed by some. There is much of the poverty of this country that is inexcusable and we might say almost criminal. The man who is too lazy to work may expect to die a poor man. The one who spends more of his time and money in the bar-room and at the gambling table, may not do so bad, but he does not set specimens of the contempt of this life. There is something for everyone to do if he will only do it. It is true that we may not always set the job we want, but at a general thing we get the best job for which we are qualified. What is needed in all the business of life is more "stick-to-itiveness." A poor job will stick to, is better than a good one that I have not worked.—Ex.

TELEPHONOGRAPHY.

The Outcome Of The Telephone And Phonograph Perfected.

The telephonograph, a new invention which comes to us from Denmark, is about a year old, in which time the inventors have made great progress.

It is a combination of the telephone with a new, constructed phonograph, which makes it possible to fix and preserve conversations in the absence of the intended hearer, so that he can listen to the message after its return.

But the inventors of the invention reach a much farther. Through the use of magnetophonograph it is possible to multiply the effect of the sound and to give the sound greater force. Thereby it is possible to greatly extend the life of the present telephone system. The distance will become much greater.

There is still another advantage—simultaneous conduction for several conversations through the same wires.

Plies are not only most painful, but also very dangerous, as the inflamed and ulcerated skin is easily affected by the action and cancer of the rectum is produced. They should be cured. TABER'S BUCKEYE PILE OINTMENT will cure the most obstinate cases. Price, 50 cents in bottles. Tubes, 25 cents.

BELGIAN HARE

AND RABBIT.

Kipling's Sermon. Among the many parts which Mr. Rudyard Kipling has played during his eventful career it is not generally known that once at least he successfully figured as a preacher. It happened thuswise.

On board the Empress liner on which he chanced to be crossing the Pacific, a Quartermaster died, leaving a widow and large family. The following evening there appeared on the notice-board, half-way down the "entertainment programme," this brief intimation: "T. P. M. Stevens, Professor of Belgean Hare."

The saloon was crowded with curious folk at the appointed time, and Mr. Kipling, from the front of an improvised platform, proceeded to preach a begging sermon of some fifteen minutes' length. The appeal was addressed to his hearers' sense of justice rather than to their charitable impulse, a forewarning of the latter whomsele's reform in "Pase the bill for your credit," make."

The result was gratifying. From a congregation numbering fewer than 300, the sum of £70 old was raised—a practical proof of eloquence that many professional orators might sulk for in vain.

DARING FATE.

Member Of A Thirteen Club Has Mysteriously Disappeared.

On the 13th of last October a thirteen club was organized at Toledo, Ohio. The object of the club was to be the evil destroy that is believed to be connected with the number thirteen.

During the winter this club hampered on the thirteenth of every month. The club was limited to thirteen members, each member paying thirteen cents at each meeting.

At the last meeting, May 15th, all the members were present, each paying the stipulated sum. At this meeting as at all the others the question of death or disease to the members was freely discussed, the president Frank W. Thomas making many facts remarks on the subject.

On the day following this meeting, this same Thomas was seen for the last time. His whereabouts are unknown; he has mysteriously disappeared.

Needless to say the meeting of the thirteen club will be discontinued for the present.

The ancients believed that rheumatism was the work of a demon within a man. Any one who had an attack of sciatic or inflammatory rheumatism will agree that the infliction is demoniac enough to warrant the belief. It has never been claimed that Chamberlain's Pain Balm would cast out demons, but it will cure rheumatism, and hundreds bear testimony to the truth of the statement. One application relieves the pain and this itself which it relieves is alone worth many times its cost. For sale by A. R. Fisher, Cloverport, R. A. Shellenbach, Stephensburg.

AND RABBIT.

Some one has asked what is the difference between the Belgian Hare and the ordinary hare or rabbit. The following definitions are given by a correspondent to the New York Times:

"The 'hare' proper has protruding eyes, does not burrow, and the flesh is dark and dry, necessitating the landing of the flesh by inserting pieces of fat in the skin before cooking. The eyes project from the head, and the ears are long and sit at the same time; it does not burrow, and so can only depend upon its extra sight and hearing for protection from its natural enemies, while the 'rabbit' and 'hare rabbit' have eyes close in the head, do burrow, and the flesh is white and very juicy. Some friends of mine have several of what are called 'Belgian hares,' which seem to me to be the only ordinary wild rabbit or cottontail, and these parts of all the attributes of the rabbit, and not of the hare."

Professor Stevens' case did not come up the next day he attended the court to hear Mr. Lincoln present his arguments. He reached the scene for the trial the opening speech by his representative and stood all through the session.

Although Mr. Lincoln spoke for an hour the techniques of mimic advertising, he did not make any definite statement, but he did make some bold surmises and engrossed and in every case puzzled and embarrassed them with his knowledge of the subject. Of course he won the case. But Professor Stevens said at the time of the court hearing he had been greatly interested in mining engineering and had devoted years to the study of the science.—Saturday Evening Post.

OLD TIMES, OLD FRIENDS, OLD LOVE.

EVERY STEP CONTESTED.

Women Suffrage Will Result as Gloriously as Has the Higher Education of Women.

(By Carrie Chapman Catt, President: National Suffrage Association.)

There is no more elaborate argument against opposition to women suffrage than has been to each step of progress of the rights of women. Plea measured heads and weighed to prove that girls could not manage education. Clergymen read to prove that they must ad public opinion echoed the opinion. Both sides did master the arguments, and the world agreed to its acknowledgment, science investigated anew and discovered measurement and weight could decide little of the quality of the human brain; clergymen reinterpreted the scriptures, and public opinion adjusted itself to the new conclusion.

Each step of the way has been bitterly contested, and that there has been advancement in the rights of women at all is due entirely to the fact that the few, not the many, possessed the right to insure the change. Had it been necessary to submit the question of co-education to popular vote before the experiment had been tried, there would not be 40,000 young women studying in our colleges and universities to-day. The consensus of public opinion in 1830 was that the brains of women were quite incompetent to receive a college education; that their physical health could not endure a four-year course of study, and that a college educated woman was an anomaly alike repulsive to men and women. Had a vote been taken, co-education would have been overwhelmingly defeated.

The progress has come because women of a larger mind, loftier ambitions, and nobler self-respect than the others have been willing to face the opposition of the world for the sake of liberty. More and more such as these deserve the rank of martyr. The sacrifice of nothing, of doubt, of obliquity, which has been endured by the pioneers in the woman movement, will never be fully known or understood. For sixty years and more a vigorous agitation has been waged in the United States to establish equal rights for women and men. Under its influence and guided by the brave leadership of brave men and women, the evolution of woman's rights has moved on without a break.

BRYAN AND DEWEY.

It is reported that Admiral Dewey said recently that the people of the South did not want Bryan for President. As a result, Bryan has decided rather than risk politics, this seems to make him was talking through his hat.

If the people of the south do not want Bryan for President they had better take down their shingle. There is hardly a state that has held a convention that has not instructed for Bryan the Kansas City convention, a fact too patent to Mr. Dewey just at this stage of the game.

Mr. Dewey has made a fine Admiral but it will be hard to convince the people of the South that can make a President.

The fact is, the office is too big for the candidate. Mr. Dewey will go to Kansas City and come away after the ups and downs of a great national convention, a sadder, and no doubt a wiser man, disgusted with the whole business.

The people of the South do want Bryan and Bryan they will have as their candidate or raise a mighty dust at that big convention.

After they have gotten him however, and put him on the track with a good running start, just as sure to be for Mr. McKinley, who is just as sure to be on the other side is a question a little too deep for our philosophy.

B. F. Willett, Thos. H. Hamilton and J. D. Hardin are prospective candidates for County Attorney. Mr. Hardin has the office now by appointment and that goes quite a distance for securing it next term. Every man should have an opinion and a choice and go to the polls and make it right. I wouldn't be a mouse in politics or religion, society or anything else, when it comes to an opinion and a decided one. People respect positive, definite, decided views and they can be expressed without a fear to one's own opinions and conscientious conviction to the contrary.

GEARY...NEWTON

Wedding Took Place At Cannelton Monday.

Mr. Sanford Geary and Miss Anna Newton, of this place, boarded Monday morning's west bound passenger train en route to Hawesville—there they took the steam train for Cannelton, Ind., where the solemn rites of matrimony were to be performed, uniting them to one district supply with another facts.

But there are now a few small establishments that have been built up the hills—ways crowning a wreath of flowers, the first tubful of ripe grapes and keeping the "bride of the cell" full from year to year.

It is well known that it is understood, is a special wine cask filled with the first running of the press. More accurately it holds the juice which drips away before any pressure is applied.

This match was a surprise to many of Cloverport's citizens, but it has since been discovered that both have been playing the role of strong devotion for a long time.

Mr. Willi Wilson and Miss Maggie Penner were the attendants.

Geary is connected with the railroad at this place as fireman. Miss Newton is a sister to Mrs. Charles Bohler, of this city and is a beautiful and attractive young lady.

BRECKENRIDGE NEWS.

A PICNIC BASKET.

How to Pack and Fill It to Give Complete Satisfaction to Hungry Pleasure Seekers.

Unless it is a picnic of two, do not be tempted into depending on a paper box. Launch for a number between four and a dozen, and a beautifully stowed swivel in one of the straw telescope baskets which have dependable leather straps and weigh almost nothing. Line it with a soft big napkin before you begin packing, taking care to leave a long end at one side, to fold over the top. Upon the napkin put a sheet or two of paradise paper, tucking it snugly into the corners.

Now you are ready for the estables. Chicken is much better fried than boiled, and for cold eating the bones or meat may be boiled, then cut, and finally cutting the breast in two pieces taking off the wings and dividing the legs into drumstick and second joint. Wash well, salt and pepper delicately, roll in cracker dust and fry very brown in deep hot fat. Take up and drain upon paper in a hot plate, then allow to cool in open air. For packing lay a sheet of the paradise paper over a wooden plate or bit of stiff card board, pile the fried chicken upon it, draw the corners of the paper over it and it is ready for packing. But do not put it in the bottom of your basket. Let it be the top, and the pickles or relishes go there. They had better be opened and the brine or vinegar poured off, both for safety and for saving weight. Tins of biscuits or sandwiches should always go near the bottom. Where there are several of them it is best to stand them on end and wedge the bottles upright between them.

Either ham, tongue or smoked beef for sandwiches is best chopped fine, mixed with a little butter, lemon juice, and chopped paprika, or capers and celery vinegar. Cut off the crust from the sandwich bread, and then before cutting off a slice, dip the bread evenly and press firmly together. You have not a sandwich box to line with the oiled paper, pile your sandwiches even and wrap several thicknesses of the paper. Then take leaves of white and brown bread, cut off the end, butter the loaf lightly, cut off the buttered surface and lay it buttered side down upon the end crust. Keep on until you have the whole loaf sliced, buttered and piled nearly in original shape. Wrap it tightly in paper—glued paper of course—pass a strong, rubber band over it endwise and then wrap it in the paper. Treated this it keeps well and saves much trouble and temper. You can stir lemon juice into the butter, or mix in the yellow of eggs boiled for twenty minutes and then mashed smooth. Or cream cheese, or cottage cheese, may take the place of butter. Cottage cheese with just a dash of salt and cayenne makes an approach to a sandwich, often more acceptable than the real thing.

Wrap all such things as sliced tongue, smoked relishes, or highly flavored cheeses, etc., in folded paper, and then in tin foil—thus nothing will stick or be contaminated. Nuts should be dried and sauteed—that is fried lightly, sprinkled with salt, drained of grease and cooled. Put them in a box to themselves at the box securely.

Pie at a picnic is an abomination of desolation, custard the same, and cake not much better. Instead of them, take fruit, plenty of fruit, and if your sweet tooth cries aloud, a box of good candy. Pack all these toward the bottom, letting your plate of chicken come toward the top. Turn the plate of the chicken invert half a dozen ways, so that it will not pride nor vanity be able to take into account the leather ones. Over the top a batch of Japanese napkins—just two for each person to be served. Stick into the crevices here and there a steel knife, two or three light-weight plated forks, a full salt shaker with a dependable top, and half a dozen small cheap glasses, tapering enough to fit into each other. When all are as snug as possible fold a colored cotton tablecloth to the size of the basket, lay it on top of all, tuck over the long end of the napkin, then slip on the basket cover, see that it fits snugly and now the strap will you have a fine parcel.

Next comes what we shall drink. With very cool water and a very hot day, lemonade is the thing. But do not make the mistake of carrying lemonade. Dissolve a pound of lump sugar in water enough to cover it, boil up once, skim well, let cool a little, then add the strained juice of a dozen fresh lemons. Mix well, bottle and cork. A tea-spoonful in a glass of water makes a delicious drink—and has the crowning mercy of having nothing but the glass to make it in.—St. Louis Globe Democrat.

THE SOUTH'S PROSPERITY.

James U. Jackson of Augusta, Ga., discussing present prosperous conditions in the South, says:

"I certainly do not think that prosperity is past. On the contrary, at least so far as the South is concerned, I think it has just begun. The cotton crop this year will be a good one and will be higher for the producer than for the last six years. In addition to cotton, the South this year will have—and is assured beyond all chance of accident—the biggest berry crop, for instance, that was a complete failure last year, will be very large. Insignificant as it may seem to those who do not know the situation, this berry crop is a big money producer and means thousands upon thousands of dollars to the South."

"The prosperity of the cotton mills of the South is well illustrated by the divisions which they are now for. For instance, the Clifton Mills and those of the R. D. Converse Company of Spartanburg, S. C., have, in addition to the usual semi-annual dividend of 5 per cent, each declared an extra dividend of 2 per cent. The Clifton Mills on a capital of $1,000,000 made over $400,000, and the Converse Mills on a capital of $300,000 netted $171,000 on a capital of $350,000.

"If that isn't prosperity I do not know what it is."

A LITTLE GIRL'S DEATH.

Pearlie Elizabeth (Howard Dled at Clifton Mills Thursday, May 10th.

Little Pearlie Elizabeth Howard, aged ten years, died at her home at Clifton Mills Thursday, May 10th. She leaves a father, a mother, a brother, two sisters and a host of friends to grieve for her.

Pearlie was an intelligent and obedient child. She had a sweet kindly disposition and won the friendship and affection of all who knew her. Two weeks before her death she seemed to feel that she would not live long. She was brought on and April 12th, 1861, a few weeks after Lincoln was inaugurated, the first gun of the civil war was fired.

During this crisis the Democrats of our state were not idle. Here in Breckinridge county a meeting was held in endorsement of the Conservative Democratic ticket and the following resolutions were written by the late Dr. John Minnich of that county and adopted by the county convention. They are interesting in showing us the position taken by our brother Democrats of forty years ago.

Whereas—We, the Bell and Everett men of Breckinridge County in mass meeting assembled, do most heartily approve of the action of the Baltimore convention in nominating John Bell for President and Edward Everett for Vice President of the United States; therefore be it

Resolved—That we will use our utmost efforts from now until the November election to further the cause of the Constitutional Union.

Resolved—That Jas. C. Breckinridge is a man whose sentiments tend to disunion and the establishment of a Southern confederacy, and that it is the duty of every Union loving man in this country to oppose him and his nefarious designs.

Resolved—That Stephen A. Douglas advocates principles contrary to the spirit and letter of the constitution and injurious to the rights of the South; that he is the nominee of the Northern wing of the Democratic party and consequently sectional and therefore ought not to receive the suffrages of a free and independent people.

Resolved—That it is the duty of every Union loving man to rally to the support of Bell and Everett, the only conservative candidates in the field, who stand on a platform broad as the Union, pure as the constitution, necessary as the enforcement of the laws.

Resolved—That Bell and Everett are the only men now before the people who are the nominees of a National party and the only men who can restore peace and quiet to our country now torn and riven by sectional factions and fast tending to destruction.

Resolved—That we fully endorse the nomination of Gen. Leslie Combe for the Appellate clerkship and that we will support him by our influence and voice, as he is a man every way capable of filling the position.

Parma, Ill., Oct. 13th, 1869—Ezra St. John O' Monteith, Ill., a doctor of medicine, has a baby. He has never tested a drop of medicine other than Dr. Caldwell's Spry Peppermint for more than a year. It entirely cured her of constipation. She is a lovely child and since I gave her my medicine she is perfectly healthy, altho' she had not been well and strong until we began using it. We know of others who are using it with equally good results. Wish you success.
